News From Nadine Ramsey

I continue to share the story of my sister-in-law, Nadine Ramsey, a WASP Pilot of WWII. Some of my activities have included: a Zoom Presentation at Texas Woman's University last July 28; another presentation of our book, TAKING FLIGHT: THE NADINE RAMSEY STORY, on August 18 during the Commemorative Air Force Webinar; a tribute to Nadine with a poem I wrote, "REFLECTIONS FROM A PILOT;" my message honoring her on Memorial Day, the button from the Women in Aviation; and her plaque which will be placed at the Mount Soledad Memorial Foundation in La Jolla, CA.

Reflections from a Pilot

Dedicated to WASP pilot Nadine Ramsey

By Raquel Ramirez Ramsey

Who knows what tomorrow brings?

But at this moment

I am happy

To be up in the air

Flying my plane

Without a care

Things may change when I get down

But who is asking?

And what does it matter?

Not to me

For I am happy

To be where I want to be

In the heavens with the angels

And the clouds making different images

That are so beautiful to see

That's the Beauty of FLIGHT

Her story is in my book; TAKING FLIGHT: THE NADINE RAMSEY STORY, which was published by the University of Kansas Press on Sept, 2020. Here is the book cover and the marketing flyer. I look forward to presenting the book during one of our meetings.
